

4 Hurt As Car, Just Purchased, Skids, Crashes Into Stone Wall

In Operation Soon

ON OR ABOUT JUNE 1, according to present expectations, parking meters like the one shown above will be installed and in operation in Arlington Center and certain parts of Arlington Heights and East Arlington, as well as on side streets just off Mass. Ave. Police Chief Archie Bullock, who is planning the installations, has received word that part of the 300 meters already are on the way. They will be in operation from 8 to 6 weekdays, and on Mondays from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m., but will not be in use on Sundays or holidays. Similar to the type used in Cambridge, they'll take a penny for 12 minutes, or any multiple of pennies up to five—or a nickel for an hour's parking. Above Lieut. Albert A. Ryan is pictured with one of the new meters. (Dwight Davis Photo)

All-Day Parking Along Prospect St. Results In 'No Parking' Order

A number of auto owners who have been using Prospect St., in the Heights section for all-day parking while they went to business in Boston have lost their open air garages. Police Chief Archie F. Bullock last Friday directed the posting of "no-parking" signs along the entire south side of Prospect St., from Park Ave., to Hillside Ave. He explained that so many auto owners have been parking their cars on both sides of Prospect that the street had become almost impassable at times, and a dangerous traffic bottleneck. The majority of the autoists, he said, take the bus which runs from the standpipe to Harvard Square, giving 17-minute service to the Square, and had gotten into the practice of leaving their machines parked here all day.

Three well known Arlington young people and a fourth from Waltham were rushed to a Lowell hospital in a semi-conscious condition Saturday night after an auto in which they were riding struck a stone wall and overturned in Billerica. The victims, all of whom were bruised and cut but luckily escaped fatal hurts, were Edgar Kneupper, 78 Jason St., Barbara Whitman and Ian Mott, also of Arlington, and Janet Nickerson, a nurse in a Waltham hospital.

All but Miss Nickerson were rendered unconscious in the accident, recovering some time after being taken to St. John's Hospital in Lowell. Young Kneupper, whose father owns the Arlington Hardware Co., was discharged from the hospital Sunday and brought home to recuperate.

Miss Whitman suffered a broken jaw and other injuries, and she and the other two remained under care in the hospital over the weekend.

Young Kneupper at the time of the accident was driving a 1942 Mercury car he'd just bought that same day. He and his friends decided to take a first ride in the car, and they had visited Kneupper's sister in Windham, N. H., and were returning when the accident occurred.

None of the four, still dazed could tell exactly how the crash occurred, but it seemed agreed that the car skidded before it hit the wall and overturned. Young Kneupper was disconsolate, not so much over the damage to his new car—which was considerable—but at the injuries his friends received. While the car was his first, he has long used his father's car and for three years during the war drove all sizes of Army trucks overseas. A quiet young man, he is known as a careful driver.

Rev. Flynn To Celebrate 1st Mass Sunday

Rev. John J. Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Flynn of 1140 Mass. Ave., will be among 41 new priests who will be ordained today, Thursday, at Holy Cross Cathedral in Boston. He will celebrate his first mass here at St. James Church, Mass. Ave., and Appleton St., Sunday at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Fr. Flynn, a native of Arlington and a 1941 graduate of Arlington High School, will be ordained by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

The new local priest will celebrate his first mass on Mother's Day in the Church where he once served as altar boy.

He will be assisted by Rev. Leo G. Cunningham as deacon, Rev. Mr. Dermott Fitzgerald as sub-deacon and Mr. James P. Hanlon, S. J., as master of ceremonies.

The sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D., pastor of St. James Church.

After graduating from Arlington High, Rev. Mr. Flynn attended Boston College two years before entering St. John's Seminary.

He has two brothers and two sisters, Peter, Paul, Katherine and Mary. His father is connected with the publishing firm of Ginn and Company, Cambridge.

A reception and priestly blessing will be held at the family home from 4 to 7 p. m., for relatives and friends.

Mrs. Jose Coleman, wife of the famous pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, left this week for Philadelphia to join her husband.

Woman Dies Accidentally Of Gas Fumes

Accidentally overcome by illuminating gas in her home at 25 Charles St., inn East Lexington, where she had lived alone since the death of her husband last September, Mrs. Astrid Lassen, 57, died Monday in Symmes Arlington Hospital.

Mrs. Lassen was found unconscious in her home Friday, after a coffee pot had boiled over and extinguished a gas flame. She had been in poor health and failed to rally at the hospital.

Her only survivors are three brothers. Funeral services were to be held today, Thursday, at the Berglund Funeral Home, with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Gives Up Home Here

ARLINGTON NO LONGER CAN BOAST that it is the home of Nelson Bragg, well known radio broadcaster (shown above), for Mr. Bragg—together with Mrs. Bragg and two little Braggs, Laraine, 7, and Sharon, 5—moved last week from 16 Brooks Ave., here to a new home they have bought at 108 Collicote St., in Winchester. Mrs. Bragg is the daughter of School Committeeman and Mrs. John Allison of 34 Webcove Rd. Nelson Bragg for three years has conducted the "Bragg About Boston" broadcast over Station WCOP at 12:30 noon. He also broadcasts "Family Scrapbook" at 2:15 every afternoon, and on Saturday nights is a "Quizdron" master. In addition, he teaches radio speech at Emerson College four nights a week.

Ex-Sailor Here Plans To Wed Descendant Of Pirate Lafitte

Couple Dies In Crash

Capt. and Mrs. Aaron Wall of 19 Wilwood Ave., who were fatally hurt in an auto accident in Maine over the weekend, were being buried in that state, as near as the Press could learn at press time.

No relatives could be contacted for definite information. Capt. Wall was a former master of the S. S. President Warfield, of the Eastern Steamship Lines.

Two years ago while serving in the Navy, James E. Clark of 285 Washington St. met a very pretty girl of French descent in New Orleans, and this week their engagement was formally announced.

The girl Mademoiselle Anastasia LaFitte, is a direct descendant of Jean LaFitte, the famous pirate of the 1700's who helped General Jackson defend New Orleans from the British. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean LaFitte.

The couple plan to be married this summer in New Orleans.

A new menace has taken to the highways.

A little tot operating a scooter on Dow St., came in for official police attention Sunday afternoon.

Police received a phone call from a Mrs. Rizzo of 41 Dow St., that a scooter bike being operated in front of her home was "creating a disturbance."

Patrolman Philip Sweeney, in a scout car, was sent down to talk to the scooterist and ask him to be a bit more quiet.

Scooping around Arlington high The G. A. A. Amateur Show last Thursday was attended by an enthusiastic audience that witnessed some really outstanding performances.

Three awards were made for exceptional talent. Matthew Camarad's sensational offerings, "Come Back To Sorrento" in Italian and encore "Prisoner of Love", ranked as high with the judges as with a thrilled audience, for he deservedly walked off with top honors for the second consecutive year.

Holding second place was pretty Barbara Ryan, who made her winning impression with a smooth treatment of "I'll Remember April" and "The Lord's Prayer".

In addition to these winning performances were Jean O'Neil with her dance routine and Barbara Mills with her hilarious magic act who, because of their professional rating, were ineligible for prizes.

Amateurs who didn't take one of the top three places but really distinguished themselves with near professional performances, included singers Dorothy Redman, Millie Carlson, Eleanor Mulhern, Jackie Hunt, Barbara Riley, the Sunset Swooners, Marion McGrane, Nancy Richmond, Stan Sorrentino, and pianist Louise Peck.

Senior speakers have been chosen for graduation night. They are David Link, Dorothy Redman, Loraine Tucker, and Sarkis Zartarian.

University Theatre

In "Relentless," starring Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman and coming to the University Theatre on Sunday, movie fans can expect a rousing drama of the Old West, of relentless pursuit and deadly encounter, and a touching love story. Color by Technicolor is said to enhance the rugged beauty of Arizona, where "Relentless" was filmed.

"The lusty, romantically nostalgic days of 1900 form the backdrop for 'My Girl Tisa' the companion film. Heading the impressive cast are Lilli Palmer, and a newcomer, Broadway stage star, Sam Wanamaker, making his film debut.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes Ronald Colman in "The Late George Apley" and "The Farmer's Daughter" co-starring Loretta Young, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore.

"April Showers," which comes from the studio that produced such other great musical films as "Night and Day", "The Is The Army", "Rhapsody in Blue" opens Thursday.

Starring Jack Carson and Ann Southern, "April Showers," has been endowed by Warner Bros., which started the parade of bit musicals with the unforgettable "42 nd Street" some years back, with production values, numbers, tunes, chorus lines, not seen on the screen in some time.

Eleven songs are in the picture, with comedian Carson and lovely Ann Southern, famed for comedy roles in the "Maise" series, handling most of them. Miss Southern is also not new to musical comedy, being remembered for a wonderful performance in "Panama Hattie" a few years ago.

On Thursday and Friday of last week the Calvary Methodist Church Youth Fellowship distinguished itself with a successful presentation of "A Ready-Made Family" under the direction of Mrs. George Hill, Jr. In the cast were Paula Bouche from Somerville High School and A. H. S., er Richard Van Iderstine, Eleanor Scott, Virginia Dyson, Helene Hughes, Rayden Richardson, Marion Scott Robert Fiske Claire Avery, Charles Layman, and stage manager Ronald Higby. The profits from this play will be used to send Youth members of the church to Asbury Grove this summer.

Crawford Coombes and Donald Howard, both seniors, had the pleasure recently of meeting Senators Ken, Missouri, Brewster, Maine; O'Mahoney, Wyoming and Representative Isaacson New York, at the Hotel Commander.

Emblem Club To Initiate

Ten candidates will be initiated at a meeting of the Arlington Emblem Club next Tuesday, at the Chestnut Hall. The supreme district deputy will be the guest of honor and there will be mother's program.

On Thursday, May 20, a group of members will give a ward party for 60 veterans at Cushing General Hospital in Framingham and on May 19 a rummage sale will be held at Legion hall.

Senior Prom' is THE topic at A. H. S., as far as the class of '48 is concerned. May 21 is the big date. The dance is to be held at the Arlington Town Hall, with the Sardusers providing the music.

Some of the girls may have been worrying about that all-important gown, but there's oe lady in Arlington who can solve that problem for them. She's Mrs. Mary Riccioli of 10 Stowcroft Road, a clever dressmaker, who with prom' and graduation time approaching, is specializing in gowns and dresses for the occasions. and submitted all the facts so that the press could inform the people of Arlington accurately.

Last week, Mr. Rich made public all vital statistics pertaining to the hospital's operation last year: the number of patients treated, cost of operation, etc.

The hospital has, of course, everything to gain by keeping the public informed of its activities. Public support is based upon understanding and appreciation. But not all public or semi-public organizations seem to realize this.

An Alert Police Force

Just before the Arlington Press published its first issue, back in January, Police Chief Archie F. Bullock said in conversation with the editor:-

"We have a good police department here. Our men are trained to keep an eye out for suspicious persons, especially at night, and by checking on strangers we've not only apprehended many a wanted person but taught the criminal element that Arlington is a good town to keep out of."

Observing the department at work, since, we've come to the conclusion that the chief was voicing no idle boast. The police DO perform a good job in keeping thugs out of Arlington, and in quickly apprehending any who unwittingly stray in.

Law-abiding citizens who chance to be out late at night may occasionally be a bit peeved when a cruise car creeps up on them and a policeman asks: "Where are you going?" but this policy of alert watchfulness pays dividends.

In the space of two days last week, for instance, local officers nabbed two out-of-town hold-up men who unwisely sought to abandon a stolen taxi and make their escape here, and then rounded up four other men passing through town in a car containing at least one revolver.

If there is such a thing as an underworld grapevine, the word undoubtedly has gone out that Arlington is an unhealthy place for law breakers.

I Wonder?

I WONDER where all the skunks come from that are being found dead on Arlington streets lately?

I WONDER how many in Arlington know that Peter P. Martin, owner of the First National Construction Co., at 344 Mass. Ave., was a prisoner of the Germans 14 months?

I WONDER why the public speaking class of St. Agnes' CYO is attracting members from Hillside?

I WONDER who it was that the town counsel promised to telephone to, and then neglected to do it?

I WONDER how many read that Johnnie Kelly of marathon fame, whose parents live on Palmer St., has been selected for the American team in the next Olympic marathon meet?

I WONDER if George Kelley of Mary St., a talented Boston commercial artist who designs book jackets for well known authors, plans his usual trips to historic points for inspiration and ideas?

I WONDER how many have shown their interest in the drive for the Carney Hospital fund by contributing and purchasing an opportunity on a new Buick?

Openings For 3 Lifeguards

The Park Department is now making plans for the Summer Program at Reservoir Beach. There are at present three openings for lifeguards.

All guards must pass a physical examination and a practical swimming test. Anyone who has passed the Senior Life Saving examination of the American Red Cross can qualify.

Need More Gray Ladies

More Red Cross Gray Ladies are needed in Greater Boston veterans, military and civilian hospitals according to a Red Cross press release this week.

Orchid corsages were presented to Miss Mildred O'Neil, teacher; Mrs. Ralph O'Neil, pianist; and the hostesses, Miss Ethel G. Higgins, school principal, Mrs. Milton H. Bretscher, Mrs. Spaulding.

An entertainment before intermission included a tap dance by Sally McDonnell, acrobatic solo by Dorothy West and a tap duet by Marilyn and Lawrence Paz. During intermission refreshments were served by Benjamin Beninati and Mrs. B. Roger, assisted by Mrs. Robert Chandler Jr., Mrs. John Cassidy, Mrs. Thaddeus Sheahan, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. George McManus and Mrs. James Aulenback.

3 Hurt As Car Tips On pike

Three Medford residents were taken to Symmes Arlington Hospital for treatment Saturday after their car hit a grass plot and overturned on the Concord Pike between Lake and Pleasant St.

Operated by Herman DeYoung of 62 Norton Ave. Medford, the car struck the curbing on a grass plot and turned over.

DeYoung was uninjured, but his three passengers were shaken, bruised and cut. They were Mrs. Mary DiNambro, 50, and her two daughters, Julia, 16, and Virginia DiNambro, 17, all of 59 Norton Ave., Medford.

Hardy School Dance Prom

The Hardy School auditorium was the scene of a colorful dance prom Wednesday of last week, when the O'Neil sisters presented members of a dancing class sponsored by the Hardy PTA in a varied program, for the enjoyment of the pupils' parents and friends.

Mrs. Ralph G. Spaulding, chairman of the class, was assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Hartling, and after a grand march there was ballroom dancing all evening.

The girls in the class were presented corsages of roses, while the boys received boutonnieres of white carnations.

L. BROOKS SAVILLE NORMAN WALKINSHAW

He Gave Good Service

The retirement of Fire Chief Daniel B. Tierney should not be allowed to become a matter of record without public acknowledgement that Arlington in the past quarter century has had the services of an exceptionally capable fire chief.

Known far and wide for his outstanding ability, Daniel B. Tierney while head of the fire department insisted upon absolute obedience to rules and maximum efficiency. But while a stickler for rules, he could—and did—rise in defense of his men and his department, so that he became known as a stern taskmaster but a fair one. Many a rookie fireman, first viewing his superior as severe, gradually got to recognize in him his best and fairest friend.

And he leaves his home town a department which, largely the work of his own mind and efforts, is one to be proud of.

There is talk now of holding a testimonial dinner for the retired chief, who served his town well and faithfully—in all—for 50 years. Mr. Tierney himself may not be in the mood for a testimonial, but we can think of no one more worthy of an expression of community appreciation.

A Sound Idea

A new public relations policy seems to have been inaugurated at Symmes Arlington Hospital—a policy which reflects an appreciation of the need of a public understanding of the institution's policy and work.

Whether or not this enlightened policy is a result of the appointment late last year of E. Vernon Rich as administrator, certainly the officials of the hospital are to be commended for the change.

Some three weeks ago, representatives of all local newspapers were invited to a dinner at which the hospital President, Ernest W. Davis, disclosed plans to construct a new building

Scooping Around Arlington High

with KATHLEEN KIRSCHBAUM

The Arlington Girls' Club took full advantage of vacation week, with two spectacular events.

First was a dance Wednesday, April 21, at the Universalist church. In addition to general dancing, novelty activities were planned to make the evening the grand success it was. These included a coke contest, Al Perry, "Gus" Gustafson, and Mie Labriola participating in an elimination dance, won by Ginny Forbush and Paul Wilkins, and a magic spot dance, Nancy Dale and Francis Eagan winners.

Decorations and refreshments added their bit to the atmosphere of the affair. Responsible for decorations were Margaret Nyberg and her committee: Evelyn Caruso, Barbara Fleming, Barbara Knight, Nancy McKenzie, and Mary Sullivan. For refreshments the dancers were served punch and cookies.

Then, too, the club sponsored a cruise around Boston Harbor with Edward Rowe Snow. This took place on Saturday when, according to Ruth Foley who went on the trip, a group of about fifty girls, some from Arlington, some from Lowell, met at the South Station, walked to the pier, and boarded a small motor launch.

Mr. Snow entertained the girls with his fascinating legends as they sailed out in the harbor toward Boston Light. The girls climbed to the top of this look-out, waded off the edge of the small island and entertained themselves with group singing—all of which contributed to a most enjoyable five-hour excursion.

Eighteen A. H. S. girls, who are interested in attending Radcliffe College, joined girls from neighboring communities at a tea and tour of the campus on Saturday, April 16. The tour started at Agassiz House, continued through the yards, and ended at Cabot Hall where refreshments were served. During the afternoon guests enjoyed a play presented by the dramatic club, and talks by various officials.

Introducing Evelyn Caruso

There's a certain junior lass at A. H. S. who can't fail to catch your eye. Maybe it's her outstanding combination of black eyes and hair or her 5' 7" of vivacity, but whatever the case, those who know her can vouch that she supports these eye-catching features with equally noteworthy activities.

Evelyn Caruso is an active member of the high school dramatic club where she understudied for the '47 and '48 festival plays worked on the backstage committee in

"Tomorrow the World", and took part in "And The Light Went Out", presented for the club members. As an A. Y. A. member she belongs to the Rifle Club and attends the weekly "rec" dance. In the Girls' Club she works on the decorating committee. Maybe that training at Girls' Club helped her and Mary Sullivan to plan those clever decorations for the W. Y. W. meeting at Evie's house last Thursday evening. (W. Y. W. is a small club of Arlington High girls to which Evie belongs).

In school Evelyn studies in a college 2 curriculum with an eye out for future years at B. U., where she intends to become a legal secretary. If her father, Joseph Caruso, a local tailor, continues to create suits as alluring as the one Evie sported Easter Sunday, she ought to become a model secretary with her efficiency, attractiveness and the wardrobe with a "Caruso touch".

Beautifully gowned in lace trimmed white satin, her finger tip tulle veil caught to a tiara of seeds pearls, Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loring Gleason of Jason Court was escorted to the altar by her father. Her bouquet was a cascade of white hyacinths roses and stephanotis.

Preceding her cousin to the altar Miss Mary Pratt of Somerville, as honor maid and only attendant wore a gown of orchid taffeta and veiled headress in a matching shade. Spring flowers formed her fan-shaped bouquet. As best man for his brother was Mr. Earle Sexton of Arlington. A cousin of the bridegroom, Mr. William Pye of Somerville, Mr. Gordon Farrow, Mr. David Wilmarth and Mr. Reigh Porter all of Arlington served as ushers.

Following a wedding reception in the church vestry, the couple return, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton will make their home in Somerville.

Mr. Robert Healy of Waltham attended to best man duties for his brother while the usher corps was made up of Mr. Peter J. Connolly, Jr., a brother and Mr. William R. Emonds, a brother-in-law of the bride; Mr. James P. Connolly and Mr. Paul Healy.

A reception in the home of the bride's parents followed the nuptial mass.

Mrs. Healy is a graduate of the New England Hospital for Women and Children and served as a Navy Nurse for two years. Her husband a veteran of service with the Marine Corps, was graduated from Boston College and Boston College Law School.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will make their home in Arlington.

WED AT A NUPITAL MASS IN ST. MARK'S CHURCH, Dorchester, Miss Joan Bernadette Crofton, last Saturday exchanged vows with Mr. Paul A. Snell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Snell of Arlington.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Miss Gulesian carried a cascade of Stephanotis formed around an orchid. Miss Elizabeth Basmajian of Arlington as maid of honor contrasted her aqua taffeta gown with a bouquet of red roses. Two sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Samuel Sunukjian of Troy N. Y., and Miss Lydia Darakjian of Arlington as bridesmaids carried bouquets of yellow jonquils and purple iris with their gowns of dusty rose taffeta. As flower girl, Joyce Juskalian of Springfield wore aqua taffeta and carried a white basket of rose petals. Stephen Balyosian of Brighton was ring bearer.

Mr. Harold Darakjian of Arlington was best man for his brother Mr. Samuel Sunukjian of Troy N. Y. and Mr. Robert Koundakjian of Watertown were the ushers. On their return from New York and Washington wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Darakjian will live in Watertown.

ESCORTED TO THE ALTAR on the arm of her father, Miss Marjorie Tobin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harold Tobin of Lexington joined the April brides trip to Washington. On their return, they will make their home in Cambridge.

FROM NORWOOD COMES NEWS of the engagement of Miss Jayne Clark, whose betrothal to Mr. Robert R. Cave of Arlington was announced by her mother, Mrs. Ingrid M. Clark. The prospective bride attended Oklahoma A. and M. College. Mr. Cave, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Clinton Cave of Bellevue Rd., is a graduate of Boston University. Both Miss Clark and her fiance served with the armed forces during World War II.

ANNOUNCING THE ENGAGEMENT and approaching June nuptials of their daughter Grace-Ardelle, are Dr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Brooks of Claremont Ave., who make known her betrothal to Mr. Vincent W. Shwab, son of Mrs. Anna W. Shwab of Lexington. Miss Brooks is a graduate of Burdett College. Mr. Shwab is a veteran of six years' service in the Navy.

About Town With Muriel

Election By Church Due

Officers of the Trinity Baptist Church for the ensuing year will be elected at the annual church meeting Wednesday of next week, May 12, in the social rooms of the church.

Supper will be served at 6:45, and the business session will start at 8 o'clock. There will be vocal selections by Mrs. Natalie Wallace, and a reception for new members.

AYA Fund Donations Starting

Contributions already are being received in response to the appeal broadcast by the Arlington Auxiliary Police Association for funds with which to support the 1948 baseball league and other activities of the Arlington Youth Association.

Letters addressed to hundreds of citizens, and headed "Put your extra dollars to work in combating juvenile delinquency by getting behind the bat with the youth of our town," still are being placed in the mails.

Signed by Police Chief Archie F. Bullock, the letter reads: "As you perhaps know, the Arlington Auxiliary Police Association for the past five years has been engaged in a year-round civic program to build better citizens among the Youth of Arlington. We have conducted such activities as weekly Friday evening dances at

Charity Drive By K. C. 3rd Degree

In addition to the current campaign in Arlington to raise $20,000 for the Archbishop Cushing Charitable Fund through award of a 1949 Buick sedan, a second campaign to raise $10,000 is under way by Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, with $10,000 as the goal.

The K. of C. drive is being conducted throughout this area, and on the committee are the following from Arlington: Harry O'Reilly, Charles Pierson, John Kearney, John Holversen and Joseph Mahoney.

The Town Hall, classes in magic, rifle shooting, and Junior and Senior Baseball Leagues during the summer months.

"This is a big and worthwhile undertaking. Literally, hundreds of high calibre men in the Auxiliary Police Association are giving unstintingly of their time and efforts to make this program the success it is. Thousands of our young people are the better for it, and it has made ARLINGTON a model community from the standpoint of comparative freedom from juvenile delinquency.

"Once again, the baseball season has rolled around and our Arlington Youth Association Baseball Leagues are beginning their FOURTH season. Relying as we must on the financial support of public spirited citizens of our town for a large part of our unavoidable expenses, I am writing to ask if you would share in this worthwhile program, and perhaps mail your check for at least a dollar or for some part of the following uniform equipment, which because of wear and tear, must be replaced to some extent each year. "A Certificate of Sponsorship will be mailed to you promptly and you may have the satisfaction of helping mould for the better the character of our Youth. You will make an investment in GOOD CITIZENSHIP that will pay dividends in our community for many years to come."

Participating in the melodrama, which elicited much mirth, were Leah Rosenthal, Harry Perlmuter, Max Rosenthal, Dora Reingold, Saul Richman, Helen Balanoff, Abe Balanoff, Eli Reingold. The play was directed by Ross Stockler.

Peirce PTA Installs Its New Officers

Installation of new officers for the coming year, was the highlight of the Peirce School Parent-Teacher Association's Banquet and annual meeting April 15.

A turnout of over 120 members and invited guests, including Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Maurice P. King, Mrs. George Walker, and Mrs. Albert Englund, all past-presidents, sat down to dine in an attractive setting which beautifully reflected the efforts of a committee directed by Mrs. John Hardy and Mrs. Max Frederick.

Mrs. John Stafford, Jr., president of the Arlington PTA Council, installed the following officers who will assume their positions in the fall: Pres., Mr. Copeland MacAllister; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Lawrence Wessells; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. Max Frederick; Treas., Mr. W. Bradley Carson; Recording Sec'y., Mrs. George Lea; Corresponding Sec'y., Mrs. Edward Richards.

The retiring president, Mrs. Ervin E. Gross, Jr., was presented with a "past-president's pin" by Miss Helen Knight, principal of Peirce School. Mrs. Winthrop Donovan's novel preparation and presentation of the historian's report brought humor and a high degree of interest to this feature. Selections by the Anton Kovar Ensemble brought the successful evening to a close.

Spring breezes are making skunks adventuresome, and police found two that had come out second best in unaccustomed highway traffic. One was found dead near 18 Lake St., another was run over on Mass. Ave.

A large black dog was run over and killed by a Tewksbury man's car last Friday at Mass. Ave., and Mystic, and another owned by Michael Havennian of 52 Summer St., was similarly killed on that street by an auto operated by Robert J. McCaffrey of 41 Pine St. . .

Catholic Women's Banquet

Members of the Arlington Catholic Women's Club turned out in force last night, Wednesday, for their annual banquet at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge, with Archbishop Richard J. Cushing as the main speaker.

On the entertainment program were original character sketches by Mary Louise Hickey, while Joe Adrian's Society Orchestra was booked to supply the musical background for the event.

Bob Clayton Due Here

Bob Clayton, popular "Boston Ballroom" disc jockey, has been booked for two personal appearances in Arlington next Monday, May 10. He broadcasts daily over WHDH.

At 3 p. m. he will be at the Farrington Record Store, 649 Mass. Ave., and at 7:45 he will make a personal appearance at the Capitol Theatre.

A number of free awards are to be made in conjunction with his appearance here. These will include a record player and four albums of records.

Hardy PTA To Honor Its Ex-Presidents

The Hardy School PTA will hold its past presidents' night and installation of officers next Tuesday, May 11.

Mrs. John E. Stafford, Jr., former president of the association and now president of the Arlington PTA Council, will speak on "Together, We Build." Another guest will be Francis J. Higgins, member of the school committee. Mrs. Milton H. Bretscher will preside.

Gives Up Movie Roles, Now Realty Salesman

Being a real estate agent here may not be as exciting as being an actor in Hollywood movie studios, but ex-Marine Lieut. George M. Manning of 145 Gray St., says he found acting "kind of tough—I appeared in several pictures, but they lost me in the cutting room."

Now living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke A. Manning, the ex-Marine has with him his bride of less than a year, the former Geraldine Marshall of Rochester, N. Y., whom he met and married on the coast.

Baseball Hits Windshield Of Auto On Mystic St.

Stolen Car Recovered

Patrolman Walter Knowles made an unusual find while looking over an apparently abandoned car on Court St., near the post office, early Saturday morning.

He walked into police headquarters with a flare gun the type used by the armed forces.

The car was traced to Marion K. Knight of 14 Fletcher St., Winchester, who explained that the auto had become disabled and had been left on the street till next day.

The flare gun, she said, was a war souvenir.

Trolley Rams Rear Of Auto

When Adelaide M. Shores of 24 Wyman St., stopped her car for a traffic light on Mass. Ave., at Lake St., Friday afternoon the operator of a trolley car behind her failed to bring the trolley to a stop in time, and dented the auto's left rear fender. The trolley was operated by Arthur Chisholm of 32 Magnolia St.

Finds Purse

Charles Ryder of 20 Appleton St., was surprised to find a woman's pocketbook lying on the sidewalk in front of his home Sunday. He took it to the police station, where it was later claimed by Barbara Beardsley of Concord.

A Medford motorist, Kenneth S. Wadman of 46 Simpson Rd., got a rude shock while driving past the Russell School playground Saturday morning.

Mr. Wadman was proceeding serenely along Mystic St. when a baseball suddenly struck his windshield, shattering it. The ball, which narrowly missed hitting him as well, almost caused him to lose control of his car.

Reporting the incident to police, he said the ball apparently came from the school playground, but he did not ask for a formal police investigation.

6 Youths In Car Halted

When Patrolman William Burns spotted a convertible sedan loaded with six young men proceeding along Mystic St., toward Winchester, Friday night, he flashed word to headquarters:-

"I don't think there's any license plate on the car."

Patrolman Philip Sweeney, in a scout car, was contacted by radio and in a matter of minutes had overhauled the car and escorted the six young men to the station.

It turned out, however, that they were in legal possession of the machine and—furthermore—that only the rear license tag was missing.
